Presents

Adani Cement Knowledge Initiative

“ConcreteTalk”

As Engineers and Architects, you are on a mission. A mission to build this great nation. You define the end state that concrete will take and remain in for several decades. You take the ownership for how people will use your creations in the future and how the structure will perform, against all odds.

At the Adani Group, we are committed to nation building and understand that yours is no small responsibility. We share this responsibility by making the best-in-class, quality cement, providing on-site technical services and committing to breakthrough research and innovation so you can rest assured.

Let us together build strong & durable structures.

Concrete Talk is our initiative to share technical topics from the field of construction and learn from your deep knowledge and varied experiences.

Topic : “ Terminal-2 Creating Iconic Built Environment through Sustainable, Prudent Engineering ”
